ANTIACH HUMS WITH ACTIVITY AS C. W. A. MEN START TO WORK

Second H. S. Project Is Approved; Lagoon Will Be Dredged

Antioch township's full quota of 71 CWA workers were at work Monday morning, some at the high school, some on the village streets, and others on the township highways.

Contrary to certain current rumors that labor from Waukegan has been imported for the high school projects, all of the thirty-five workers with the exception of two, the engineer and the landscape gardener, are from Antioch township. No one registered at the Antioch agency for either of the two positions mentioned.

Second Project Approved

The second project planned by the high school of dredging a lagoon located east of the building across the Soo Line railroad tracks, to be used as a skating rink, yesterday received the okay of the State office in Chicago. It was approved last week by William F. Kirkham, of the Lake County division of the CWA, and B. P. Thacker, district engineer. This will call for nineteen men for three or four weeks, labor cost to be about $1,000. Work cannot be started until some other project is completed and men are available.

Grade School Plans Project

A project calling for eight men for three weeks to redecorate the new grade school building has been approved by Kirkham and Thacker, but the Chicago permit has not yet come through. The old building was redecorated on the exterior recently, but the new building has received no repair work or redecoration since its erection. As the work entails painting the walls and varnishing the woodwork, the school board hopes to have work started during the Christmas vacation if there are men available under the Antioch CWA quota.

Duncan Returns With Prize-Winning Oxfords

William Duncan, of the Marellbar Farms, Libertyville, returned last week after a ten weeks exhibition tour with the famous Marellbar flock of Oxfords. Duncan exhibited the sheep in ten shows, seven in the United States and three in Canada, including the Royal Winter Show at Toronto the last of November and finishing his tour at the International Livestock Show in Chicago.

At the Toronto show the Marellbar flock won eight first prizes out of nine, and captured the same number at Chicago in competition with three universities and eight other exhibitors. Several gold and silver cups and medals were added to the large collection already won by the famous flock.

FILLING STATIONS TO CLOSE AT NOON ON CHRISTMAS DAY

All filling stations in Antioch will close at noon on Christmas Day, according to Bert Ray, who said that the managers of the eight stations had all agreed to the half-holiday. These stations are: Horton's Phillips "66" station, Ray's Sinclair station, Murie's Standard, Smith's Standard, Antioch Oil Company's Shell, Hunt's Texaco, Maplethorpe's Standard, and Masek's Standard.

Rotour Players

Return Jan. 3

The J. B. Rotour Players, who have been appearing each Wednesday night at the Crystal theatre, will not return to the local playhouse until January 3rd. "J. B." announced this week, explaining that the Company was taking its usual mid-winter lay.

A problem drama with comedy and many puzzling situations entitled "Putting It Over" will be the play presented Jan. 3. Mr. Rotour says this is the play of the hour, and is one of the season's greatest successes.

H. S. Alumni To Hold Seventh Banquet And Dance

Rev. Holden of Millburn to Speak; Hold Business Meeting Early

Reservation cards for the seventh annual Antioch Township High School alumni banquet and dance to be held next Thursday evening, Dec. 28, were sent out this week by Miss Mildred Hullik, corresponding secretary.

Reverend Holden of the Millburn Congregational Church has been secured to speak, by Lloyd Atwell, president of the Alumni Association. He is known as an entertaining speaker, with "something to say." Several musical selections and brief impromptu speeches will comprise the remainder of the program.

The business meeting and annual election of officers will be held at 6:30, followed by the dinner at seven.

The dance will start about nine o'clock. Percy Gustafson and his four piece orchestra from Waukegan have been secured to play for the dance, according to Hilma Rosing, chairman of the dance committee.

Arrangements are being made to have movies taken of the dinner and dance, and of the separate classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Horton Celebrate Golden Wedding

(Chetek, [Wis.] Alert)

About three hundred guests were entertained at the Alfred Horton home east of Chetek on Wednesday afternoon and evening of last week in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Horton. They were married on Thanksgiving Day, November 29, 1883, at Wilmot, Wisconsin, and made their home in Antioch, Illinois, for about twenty years, then moving to Chetek. They have lived on their farm east of Chetek for thirty years. Their six children are all still living and were all at the golden wedding party. All of Mrs. Horton's brothers and sisters are still alive.

A wedding ceremony was performed at 11:30 A. M. by Rev. Hurlibut of the Advent Christian church of Chetek. Mrs. Horton was dressed in white and wore the veil that her daughter, Mrs. Clemmins Bennin, wore for her wedding last fall. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid and best man, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Horton, were brother of Mr. Horton and sister of Mrs. Horton. She dressed in lavender and carried white roses. Mrs. Dell Bell, sister of Mrs. Horton, was matron of honor. She was dressed in flowered chiffon and carried white roses.

Violet Hanson acted as flower girl and carried a gold colored basket filled with pink and white roses. Leland Horton, ring bearer, carried the ring in the heart of a big white rose. These little folks are grand.

William Brumfield Passes Away At Lake Villa Home

William Brumfield, 58, passed away this morning about nine o'clock at his home in Lake Villa, after an illness extending from the first of last August. Death was caused by an excess of white blood corpuscles and consumption.

He has lived in this vicinity for a number of years and for the past six years has been employed at the Hussey Lumber yards Lake Villa.

He was born November 11, 1875, in Minnepolis, near Howard Lake, where he spent the greater part of his life, engaged in farming. He was united in marriage to Miss Effie Hutchinson in 1901. Three children were born to them, Russell, Doris, and Evelyn.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters Lodge for thirty-four years.

Ten years ago he and his family moved to a farm north of Millburn, where they resided for four years before moving into the village of Antioch. Two years ago they moved to Lake Villa.

He is survived by his wife, his son, Russell, Lake Villa, a daughter, Mrs. Doris Hughes, Antioch; three sisters, Mrs. Genoa Moorehead, Mrs. Mary Fleming, and Mrs. Nancy Watson, all of Howard Lake, Minnesota.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at Strang's Undertaking Home, Antioch, with the Rev. C. J. Hewitt, Lake Villa, officiating. Burial will be in the family plot at Howard Lake, Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zadny, Chicago, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mann.

Charles Selby, Bristol, spent Sunday with his father, George Selby, at the William Keulman home.

REEVES AND VOS ARRANGE CHRISTMAS CHEER FOR KIDDIES

Santa Will Come to Reeves' Drug Sat. Night; to Vos Home Sunday

The honored and timeworn tradition which Santa Claus follows in visiting Antioch kiddies in Reeves' Drug Store will be repeated again this year, according to word received from the North Pole.

Antioch children look forward with eagerness to the annual Christmas treat which is made possible for them every year by S. H. Reeves, who for a number of years has used his influence to induce Santa to visit this community. He will be at the drug store at 7:30 Saturday evening to welcome all his little friends.

Santa will appear the following evening at the eighth annual outdoor Christmas party given for Antioch youngsters by Herb J. Vos. The Christmas tree will be a live tree, growing on the Vos lawn on North Main street, and will be attractively decorated with brilliant lights and ornaments.

Santa Claus will be aided by members of the American Legion in distributing the gifts of candy, apples and oranges, supplied by Vos.

All children of the community up to twelve years of age are invited to present before seven o'clock Sunday evening, to participate in carol singing, and meet Santa.

S. E. Pollock, Retiring Past Master, Receives a Gold Ring

A closed installation of officers of the Sequoit Masonic Lodge A. F. and A. M. was held at the hall Tuesday evening.

Those installed were:

Worshipful Master—Elmer Hunter
Senior Warden—Arthur Wertz
Junior Warden—Lewis Van Patten
Senior Deacon—Harry Willett
Junior Deacon—Emil Lubkeman
Treasurer—Ed Garrett
Secretary—Frank Huber

Senior Steward—William Anderson

EXPRESS COMPANY PLANS FOR BIGGER BUSINESS IN 1934

Definitely improved business conditions and increased public buying power is indicated with the approach of the holidays, according to George Kuhaupt, agent of the Railway Express agency in this city.

"We have prepared for increased shipping," Kuhaupt said, "not only during the pre-holiday season, but very definitely during 1934. In fact we are engaged in a business-building campaign we call 'A New Deal' in the Express Business, and are confident that it will help speed along President Roosevelt's recovery plans."

Care in wrapping and correctly addressing packages was stressed by Kuhaupt who says that special address labels are supplied by the Company.

Raymond Schumacher returned to Antioch Sunday night, after spending nearly six weeks in San Antonio, Texas, where he was called by the death of his father.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Horton of Antioch, Ill., Mrs. Dell Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christianson and children and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nathans, all of Chicago.

Mr. Bertha Elwood and son, Russell, spent Monday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald Elwood and Gust Starck, Chicago.

G. S. Concert Given High Praise

Exceedingly favorable comments on the excellency of the third annual grade school concert held Friday evening were heard at the close of the program. The high school auditorium was completely filled.

Selections, both instrumental and vocal, were presented by each class group, and several individual members. The instrumental soloists and groups displayed a surprising proficiency and skill on their instruments, and the vocal groups in general, and the Girls' Glee Club in particular, were well-trained and true in harmony and tone.

The antics of the German band provided an entertaining contrast to the more serious air of the other selections, and figuratively "brought down the house."

Much credit must go to Hans Von Holwede, director, who is largely responsible for the interest displayed by the children in musical activities, and their unusual accomplishments.

ALUMNI B. B. TOURNEY BEGINS ON CHRISTMAS DAY

Trophy Will Be Awarded Champs; Class of '30 Now Holds Title

Christmas day will see the opening of the third annual Antioch Township High School alumni basketball tournament, when the Class of '31 meets the combined classes of '26 and '27 at 2:30. Two other games will be played that day, as scheduled below.

There will be a trophy to the winning team this year—the first that has been awarded since the tournaments began two years ago. Most of the games of the two previous tournaments have been interesting to watch, as the teams were quite evenly matched, and the finals have been exceptionally exciting, the winning team and the runner-up going into overtimes on both occasions.

A small admission will be charged. As the Alumni Association levies no annual dues, these games are the

TWO LOSE LIVES IN DROWNING TRAGEDY

John Pendl and Son, Frank, Die When Ice Breaks, Boat Overturns

WIFE MAKES HEROIC EFFORT

The heroic efforts of John Pendl to save the life of his drowning son caused his death in a double drowning tragedy in Fox river Tuesday. Mrs. Pendl made a hard fought and valiant struggle to aid them, without avail.

The bodies were not recovered until the following morning when daylight aided the searchers.

Pendl and his son, Frank, 20, were returning to their home, which is on the west shore of the Fox river, three miles south of the bridge on Route 173, near Hackberry Island, in their improvised iceboat, after visiting a neighbor. They were but a short distance from home when the ice broke, and their boat overturned, about 10:30.

Wife Hears Cries

Their cries for help attracted the attention of Mrs. Pendl, who was in the house, according to her testimony before the coroner's jury yesterday. Grabbing a flashlight, she rushed down to the shore, but could not discern their figures in the murky darkness. She tried to throw a rope to them, but it fell short.

Husband Reaches Shore
Somehow her husband crawled out of the water, probably with the aid of his son, and reached shore. Taking the ice he made his way back over the ice for a distance, but before reaching the boy, the ice broke beneath him and he went down a second time.

Mrs. Pendl stated that she had tried to persuade her husband not to venture out too far, where the water would be over his head, but to throw the rope to the boy and pull him toward shore. In his anxiety and nervousness, she said, he insisted on going all the way to the boy.

Makes a Desperate Effort
Mrs. Pendl went back to the house to get another boat, and pushed it

CHURCHES TO HOLD SPECIAL SERVICES AND PROGRAMS TO MARK THE YULETIDE

The Yule season will be heralded by the ringing of church bells for special services and musical programs to commemorate the birth of Christ nineteen hundred and thirty-three years ago. The arrival of the Babe in the manger that frosty night so long ago was celebrated by his followers many years afterwards, and since that time the date has become an increasingly important one to all civilized nations.

Episcopal Church
The children's service and program will be held at three o'clock in the church Sunday afternoon. The mid-night Eucharist will be celebrated at 11:30 Christmas eve, Dec. 24, to which every one is cordially invited.

There will be a Eucharist at 8:00 a. m. Christmas morning. There will be no church school or 11 o'clock services Sunday morning.

Christmas Dawn Mass at St. Peter's
Christmas morning masses will be at 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10 o'clock. The musical program at St. Peter's for Christmas day will be as follows:

The first high mass, at 6 o'clock in the morning will be ushered in with Christmas hymns and music, such as "Silent Night" by Gruber, "Canticus de Noel," the French Christmas hymn, "The First Noel," and Adeste Fideles, interspersed with violin solos and accompaniment by Mr. John Halligan. An especially arranged organ march duet will be played by the organist, Mrs. A. J. McGreal, and Cecilia Newman, as the priest enters to read mass.

The mass to be sung by the choir is Albert H. Roswig's Mass in F. No. 2. At the Offertory of the 6 o'clock mass, the "Adeste Fideles" will be sung by the entire choir with violin accompaniment.

At the 10 o'clock mass, which is also a high mass Roswig's Mass in F will again be sung. At the Offering

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

The Christian Science Journal

CHRISTMAS celebrates the birth of Jesus, the Way-shower, who brought to mankind the gift of gifts—love for God and man—and the token of man's true health, life, and holiness. Cherishing his spiritual sonship above all else, Jesus never allowed what is called human nature to hinder his manifestation of the divine nature. Thus he stands as the Exemplar whose holiness appears not only blessed his contemporaries, but also foreshadows the new birth for one and all, since with the birth of Jesus came the birth of Christianity.

During the world's merrymaking at the Christmas season it is well to weigh values and to reach out still more earnestly for spiritual vision, purity, power. Christmas is a time of spiritual rejoicing, a time of quietness and temperance, a time in which to note once again how far one is himself carrying out and extending the healing mission of Christianity. It is evident that material gifts are often exchanged owing to precedent and formality, and that they call forth mainly a tedious sense of obligation and reciprocity. From Paul's sanctified heart welled up this desire: "I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift."

All that truly exists is Love and its spontaneous, unceasing manifestation in man; and as this ideal is cherished in thought it finds permanent expression in one's daily life. Seeing another as well as one's self in the light of true manhood is a gift to be offered in taken to reflected Truth and Love. This secret giving, this token of true Christianity, may well halow every Christmas-tide.

"The Spirit bestows spiritual gifts, God's presence and providence," Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 345). In this presence and this providence there is no room for sin, fear, lack, or false witnessing. It is in this spirit of sharing the best gifts that Christian Scientists meet together at Christmas, rejoicing not only in the Saviour's birth, but also in increasing evidences of their own and the world's new birth. Of God's impartation of spiritual gifts and man's response to these gifts there is no beginning and no ending.

NATION NEEDS REAL TEMPERANCE

In a recent statement to the press, Seton Porter, president of National Distillers' Products Corporation, said that his organization would stand for temperance as opposed to excess, and added, "We clearly recognize that the American people are not voting liquor in; they are voting prohibition out."

The eighteenth amendment was not repealed in order to provide the means for a legal national drink—it was repealed because the great bulk of American citizens had come to believe that it was inimical to the cause of temperance. They had seen political corruption arise under it, which was as bad and often worse than that of the old days. They had seen an unprecedented increase in crime made possible by the vast amounts of money that illegal liquor brought into underworld pockets. They had seen the speakeasy flourish, to the point where, in most cities, it ran almost as openly as the legal saloon once did, and was even less subject to social control.

The National Distillers have been running newspaper advertisement asking the public to cooperate with the manufacturers and sellers of liquor to prevent rowdiness and to promote common sense. If the public fails in that, or if the liquor manufacturers and sellers fail in their duty of keeping the goal of temperance everlastingly in mind, repeal of prohibition will be a poor victory indeed. The solid citizens of this country demand that the age-old alliance between politics and liquor be broken, that the law control the liquor business and not the liquor business the law. Every patriotic and thoughtful manufacturer should be the first to echo those demands—every retailer should work to keep his end of the business above reproach.

The United States has tried "wide open" liquor policies, and they have failed. It has tried absolute prohibition, and it has failed. Now it is attempting to steer a middle course that avoids excess on the one hand and fanaticism on the other. Whether it is to fail or succeed depends on the public, which decides all great questions.

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTER

Business in 1933 has presented a rather eccentric spectacle. The year began with practically every industry at a low ebb. Then, directly following Mr. Roosevelt's ascension to office, a wave of optimism caused increased production, plant expansion, heavier-than-average buying. During the summer there was constant contraseasonal improvement, largely due to the great enthusiasm that greeted the NRA when it was created. Early in the fall a let-down started and business conditions of all kinds got steadily worse. Industries which had visions of reaching the production levels of a few years ago found themselves again at the

Now, on the basis of very recent reports, improvement is again appearing. Heavy industries, which have been most backward of all lately, are feeling it especially—an excellent sign. This is largely due to the fact that surplus manufactured supplies, which resulted from the great upshot in activities last spring, have come fairly close to being eliminated. A constantly mounting number of corporations are resuming dividends to stockholders. Others, which were so fortunate as to have only reduced dividend payments, are increasing them.

Thomas Jefferson said: "I would rather live in a country with newspapers and without a government, than in a country with a government, but without newspapers."

Christmas tree was held at the high school assembly room Wednesday evening. Numbers were put on by the Intermediate and Primary Departments.

The basketball team lost a Conference game to Genoa City Friday night by a score of 22-7. The game was hotly contested until the end of the second quarter when Nelson was injured and had to retire from the game. After his retirement the Wilmot team did not function as smoothly as before and Genoa City gradually assumed the lead. Norris Farms was played at Norris Farms Wednesday evening. The next home game will be with Waterford on January fifth.

Mr. Thomas Lutman of Los Angeles talked before the Assembly Monday on the subject, "Pushing Past the Horizon." He gave a very inspirational talk and presented a challenge to every one who was fortunate in hearing his discussion.

The Patrons Club card party and dance on Thursday evening was well attended and enjoyed by all present.

Christmas vacation will start with the close of school Friday and end on Wednesday, Jan. 3. Faculty members will spend the holidays at their respective homes.

Principal Marlin M. Schnurr attended a meeting at Waukesha Monday of the Southeastern Wisconsin districts at which representations from all the counties in the district were present. An explanation of the Government's corn-hog reduction campaign was presented before the meeting.

A number of improvements to the school grounds and gymnasium are being made this week by men working under the C. W. A. program.

A Christmas party and tree was held at the gymnasium Thursday evening for the high school pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schnurr and Mrs. Ida Schnurr, of Bristol, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Schnurr.

Mrs. Clayton Lester and daughter, Virginia, of Spring Prairie, were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shottliff.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Swenson and sons of Camp Lake spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swenson.

Mrs. John Johnson was ill and under the care of Dr. A. Becker, of Silver Lake, the first of the week.

The meeting of the Dramatic Club at the high school Monday evening was postponed until Thursday evening, Jan. 4.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 17.

The Golden Text was, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made" (John 1:1,3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: I am the Lord; that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images" (Isaiah 42:5,8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Creator, Spirit; Mind; intelligence; the animating divine Principle of all that is real and good; God, who made all that was made; and could not create an atom or an element the opposite of Himself" (p. 683).

Although the games in the past have been enthusiastically supported by a number of the alumni, they have not received sufficient general support to justify continuing the tournaments in future years unless the coming games are better attended. The Class of '30 has copped the tournament championship both in 1932 and 1931, and again expect to present some tough opposition to challenging teams.

TWO HIGH SCHOOL GAMES SCHEDULED FOR THIS WEEK

To Play Ela Here Friday Night; Bensenville Here Sat. Night

Basketball fans will be given an opportunity to attend two conference home games this weekend at the Antioch high school gymnasium. The Antioch heavies and lights will engage the Ela cagers Friday night, followed by two games with Bensenville on Saturday night.

When asked about the prospects for the games, Coach Thomas Cox said firmly, "We're going to win." The team traveled to Libertyville Tuesday night to watch the game between the Waukegan and Libertyville teams and intend to continue practice through the Christmas holidays to keep in form.

Bensenville has defeated Antioch once this season, but by a small margin, 33-29, in a very closely contested game Friday night, which ended with Antioch having only four men left in play, three having been put out on personal fouls. Antioch feels confident of turning the tables Saturday night on the home floor.

The second team defeated Bensenville's light team Friday night, 28-22. Lineups follow:

There are stuffings and stuffings—moist, dry, celery, oyster, giblet, etc., and few cooks achieve exactly the same kind as their neighbor. Anyway, here are a few to suit any taste.

1 pound sausage meat

Sausage stuffing
1 1/2 cups crumbled soda crackers

2 cups chopped celery

2 eggs, well beaten

1 teaspoon salt

Water.

Blend the ingredients, adding enough water to give the mixture a packable consistency.

Apricot Dressing for Goose

1/2 pound dried apricots

3 cups soft bread crumbs

1 cup cracker crumbs

1 1/2 teaspoons salt

1/4 cup chopped celery

1/4 cup melted butter

Pepper to taste.

Wash the apricots and just cover them with boiling water. Simmer until barely tender. Cool and then cut them in small pieces, adding the bread and cracker crumbs, the celery, butter, and seasonings. Add water if necessary to make packable. When roasting a goose, roast it on a rack to hold it out of the drippings.

Orange Stuffing for Chicken

3 cups bread or cracker crumbs

3/4 cup water

1/2 cup orange juice

1 teaspoon grated orange rind

1 teaspoon minced onion

1/3 cup melted butter

1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning

1 teaspoon salt.

Keep in mind that apple, bread, egg and nut dressing, rightly seasoned and held together with water or orange juice, has an excellent regard for the rich, gamey flavor of duck. Likewise, chestnuts do most delightful things to roast duck. Here is a favorite:

Chestnut or Peanut Dressing for Duck

1 1/2 cups fine bread crumbs

1/2 finely chopped chestnuts or peanuts

3 tablespoons melted butter

1/2 teaspoon finely minced onion

2/3 cup milk

Salt and pepper to season.

Blend the ingredients and stuff into all parts of the duck.

Last Minute Gift Shopping Presents Harrassing Problems

Have you reached this date with your Christmas shopping still unfinished? Or, what is worse, are you in a quandary as to what to select in your frantic last minute shopping? If so, the following suggestions may contain a hint or two of value.

For a child: Gayly colored knit wool mittens, each finger a different hue; a beret of the latest style; small size specially designed children's stationery; book; children's handkerchiefs. Tiny gifts wrapped in waxed paper, and concealed in popcorn balls create fun and surprise. Insert a loop of gilt or silver cord in the balls, and slip over branches of the Christmas tree.

For the student: Desk lamp; stationery; books; playing cards; soap; other wearing apparel.

For a woman: Card table covers; cheeseboards; dressing table accessories such as perfume atomizer; lamps; stationery; reading material; music.

For a man: Smoking accessories; stationery; reading material; handkerchiefs (men are always shy on handkerchiefs).

The above, of course, is merely impersonal list; personal gifts best selected by intimate ob-

SPECIAL CAKES AND CONFECTIONS MARK THE YULETIDE

Fluffy Popcorn Decorative as Well as Appetizing for Holidays

Some Christmas cards feature old British scenes with surprisingly round and jolly squires seated about a table overflowing with enormous roasted fowls, huge steaming puddings and cakes, and mounds of other hearty delicacies.

Although our ideas on diet have undergone a decisive change since "the good old days of merrie England" it does seem that at Christmastide, our menus are just a little richer and more elaborate. Here's a Christmas cake from Finland.

Finland Cake

1/2 cup butter
3/4 cup margarine
1 2/3 cup sugar
3 eggs
5 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 cup cream
2 cups raisins, floured
1/3 cup candied cherries, pineapple or ginger
1/2 cup candied orange peel
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon powdered cardamom seed.

The butter, margarine and sugar should be creamed well. Add eggs and beat well. Sift together the flour and baking powder, add to first mixture, then add cream, stirring well. Then add fruits and spices and salt. Mix all thoroughly and pour into a mold lined with oiled or buttered paper. Bake in an oven, 325 degrees, for 1 1/2 hours. The cake is of rather a dry texture.

Holly Wreaths

1 egg
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup chopped pistachio nuts
3 hard cooked egg yolks put through ricer
1 1/4 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon powdered cardamom
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind.
Beat the raw egg yolk with riced egg yolks. Add the creamed butter and sugar and mix well. Add flour, cardamom and lemon sifted together. Roll to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut with donut cutter. Brush with egg white, outline with chopped pistachio nuts and place groups of three tiny red candies to represent holly berries. Bake in a 350-degree oven until delicately browned. Makes about two dozen holly wreaths.

Poison
What is more festive than popcorn? Strings of fluffy popcorn brighten up a Christmas tree immensely, and incidentally, it's something to occupy the time of the young children when you're busy. Everyone likes big tasty popcorn balls—even Santa Claus.

Crunchy Popcorn Balls

5 quarts popped corn (salted)
2 tablespoons butter
3 cups sugar
1 cup corn syrup (light)
1 cup water
1 cup peanuts (if desired).
Put sugar, syrup and water into a saucepan and cook, stirring until sugar has dissolved. Cook without stirring to 242 degrees F. or to the soft ball stage when tried in cold water. Add butter, mix thoroughly.

CLOTHING GIRLS GIVE STYLE SHOW BEFORE ASSEMBLY

A style show was put on before the high school assembly this morning by the girls of the first year clothing class, who have just completed their frocks or ensembles. Wool dresses were particularly numerous, several dresses being made of wool crepe, tweed, or serge.

Two suits were displayed, two jumpers, and a number of sport skirts and print blouses. While all colors were evident browns, greens, blues, and grays were the most prominent. The dresses were all smartly and neatly made according to the latest styles, but with regard to the suitability to the wearer of line, color, and design. Most of the long sleeved dresses boasted a full puffy upper sleeve and close fitting lower sleeve.

Two of the girls, Elaine Hennings and Lillian Musch, completed their ensemble by making hats and purses of matching material. Evelyn Van Patten was the only girl of the class to attempt a dress for her mother instead of for herself.

The girls who "modeled" their own dresses were: Florence Buchta, Hazel Chinn, Marjorie Crowley, Genevieve Daube, Florence Dunford, Ruth Ferris, Elaine Hennings, Lillian Musch, Gertrude Hess, Helen McVicars, Adele Miller, Evelyn Overton, Alice Palasek, Norma Paddock, Lena Pederson, Jeanette Peterson, Ina Quedfeld, Gertrude Rothera, Cheryl Smith, Lorraine White, and Evelyn Van Patten.

Have corn in a large bowl. Pour syrup over all (have peanuts mixed with corn if used). Mix well. Shape into large balls. Makes about 1 1/2 to 2 dozen balls, depending on size.

Crispy Kornettes

2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2/3 teaspoon almond flavoring
4 egg whites
4 cups popped corn
Chop corn fine. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold in sugar and salt. Fold in popcorn and add the flavoring. Drop from a teaspoon onto a greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes twenty-four confections.

In this age when everybody seems to have no intense desire to fight, the gentle art of making friends, either between individuals or between nations, seems to be in the discard. Nevertheless, people of middle age, when they review their lives, will be impressed with the great influence that the friendships they have made, or the enmities they have developed, have had upon their lives.

Fortunate are those whose training in early life falls under the direction of an older person who values and inculcates the advantages to be derived from making the right kind of friends.

With some people there seems to be an uncontrollable ingrained desire to say and do things to cause pain and trouble.

According to philosophy and observation, people's natures never change, from the cradle to the grave. We may find it advisable to modify some of our propensities. We may decide that some of the things we would like to do are unwise and even dangerous. We may prefer to keep out of jail and away from the electric chair, but nevertheless our natural propensities never change.

The whole thing is the propagation and development of the germ of friendship. This means, of course, saying and doing things that will lead to good will and friendship. Some people, even intelligent people, are exceedingly tactless in this respect.

All of us accept the dictum that "birds of a feather flock together." Nothing truer was ever said; every man finds his level, and you can tell his level by the character of his friends; and so friendships have most to do with the selection of homes. In conclusion, the most valuable asset to any town is the friendliness of its people.

Early History Of Old Cribb School

By Charles E. Blunt

Ed. Note. The following history is taken from the account prefacing the catalogue of Indian relics which were presented to the high school by Mr. Blunt in 1923. The book is entitled "Prehistoric Implements and Indian Relics," by Charles E. Blunt. The first half of his autobiographical memories of the Cribb school was published in last week's issue of The News.

I think it must have been about 1852 or '53 that the school house was moved from the Maltby neighborhood to its present location, and I think the first teacher was Bert Marsh, who had married my sister Regina sometime previous to that. I will try to give the furnishings and appointments at that time. For the seats, the directors, not to be outclassed by the other school houses in the county, went up to Antioch and picked out some oak slabs that had been discarded as waste from the old saw mill, carted them down, bored holes in the ends for the legs—the round side down and the sawed side up, and until the silvers and ridges caused by the saw were worn down, the patches on the seat of our little pants were very prominent for a long time.

The rest of the furniture was an old book case, old fashioned box stove, which would probably take a whole stick of cord wood without being cut. On top of this stove was a sheet iron drum the entire length of the stove. In the center of this drum was a large hole, and sometimes at noon time when the teacher was not in we would play war and would fire cord wood at an imaginary enemy through the hole in the drum. I remember one time when the engagement was so terrific the stove pipe came down and drove the whole school out in the street, the imaginary enemy being sole possessors of the situation. The promoters of the conflict, however, were imprisoned for a limited time after school had closed for the day.

Adder Visits School

Now while I am reminded of it, I will relate an experience I had one day at school. I was sitting in the northwest corner under the old bookcase I have previously mentioned, very busy figuring on an example in common fractions, when I heard a scratching noise in the corner near my head. When I looked around, you can imagine my surprise when I saw a spotted adder about three feet long trying to wiggle its way up behind the old book case. Well, I let out one big Indian war whoop, and at one leap I cleared the desk and landed in the middle of the floor. The scene that followed was better imagined than described. At any rate, the whole school was thrown in a panic, but after a while, with sticks of stove wood, shovels and tongs, his snakeship was captured and destroyed, but let me tell you that corner never appealed to me after that.

Early Teachers

I will try to give a list of the teachers that taught from the time the school was moved to the Cribb district until it was replaced by the frame building that now occupies the site. I may not be correct in the rotation and besides, several of the teachers taught quite a number of terms. I think the next teacher after Bert Marsh was Curtis Peck. Then there was Jane Hayward, Sarah Brown, Mr. Chace, Sarah Calkins, Miss Lockhart, Hattie Willard, Mrs. Vandemark, Mrs. Lewis, Emery Adams, and Charlotte Miller. Charlotte Miller taught quite a good many terms. She later became the wife of Mathew Cribb.

Remembers Pupils

I believe I can name the old scholars that attended school after it was moved to the Cribb district. There were Renben, Augusta, Wesley, and Charles Blunt; James, Lucinda, Samantha, and Martha Marble who lived in a log house where Franklin Richards now lives; Francis, Mary, and Warren Slivers; Tom, Andrew, John and Mary Farrier; Amanda and another daughter of Chauncey Hawkins; Ezekiel and Emma Cribb; Sarah, William, and Ann Lowe; James, Leonard, Frank, and Celia Marsh, children of Pelig Marsh; Albert and Perilla, children of Aleck Marsh.

Then later there were Henry Pittman; Elizabeth Urash; Alfred, John, Charles, George, and Eliza Richards; Jane and Rose Petford; Oscar, Gertrude and Josie Rector; John, Maggie, Melvin, and Tursh Little; Mary and Agnes Kerr; Judson, Wallace, Francis, and Ida Rogers; Helen and Emma Johnson; Jane, Dina, Stephen, Martin, Harmon, and John Parker, children of Lorenzo Parker; John, Sylvia, and Asel Parker, children of Hiram Parker. I believe the Judd children attended one or two terms, and I presume a few others that had no permanent residence in the district. I did not attend but two or three terms after the present school house was built; James Marsh taught one and Ransom Gilbert taught one or two when the job was left for the building.

Wauconda Leader

A 7-room frame farm house, at Island Lake, 3 miles west of Wauconda, was burned to the ground Monday morning, entailing a loss estimated at $3,000, which is partially covered by insurance. The building was the property of the Island Lake Land Association of which Homer Cook and Ray Paddock are trustees, and was occupied by the Wayne Bacon family.

Charles Coreleski, the hobo orator who goes under the sobriquet of Silk Hat White, addressed the Wauconda township high school assembly Friday afternoon. Silk Hat White's talk concerned the actual life that a "man of the road" leads.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Drom and Miss Beulah Drom spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Prohl and family, Milwaukee.

David M. White

He has passed from the earth where the storms ever gather; He "just slipped away" in the morning's bright light; He dreaded the storms and the inclement weather; Thanked God for the sunshine so bonny and bright. His muscles were sore and his bones ever aching; Old age made him stoop as "he did what he could." A soldier to God in his birth and his making;

His mind ever worked for the right and the good.

Not brilliant perhaps, but a mind ever working To get at the truth and to hold it for aye;

He was "doing his part" without envy or shrinking; And like any true Scott he preferred it his way;

Not unblased? O no. For he was only human; He hated a snob and abhorred any fake;

His heart was as tender as any true woman; And he'd fight for the right when the truth was at stake.

He has passed from our sight, but we hope not forever; In "The City foursquare" we will look for his face;

He will welcome us there when our earnest endeavor Has brought us again to our next meeting place;

We will mourn not today for we know that his ending Was peaceful and calm as the waves when at rest;

He has entered that rest that's forever unending; His Saviour will welcome him there. It is best.

At the close of the annual Lake county ping pong championship Saturday in the local high school gymnasium, the men's title passed from the hands of D. A. Kittermaster to those of Frank Fuck, youthful Highland Park star, who defeated the title holder in the finals, which were closely contested.

Mrs. R. G. Hammond of Highland Park, 1932 women's champion, retained her title by defeating Virginia Booth, also of Highland Park.

DROWNING—

out on the ice, foot by foot, but before she could reach them, they had disappeared. Once, she said, she called to them to wait just a little longer, and her son answered. She threw him a rope, which he evidently grasped, and she tried to pull him out, but the weight was too great. The boy moaned and then disappeared.

When he was found his hands were tangled in the rope which was attached to the boat Mrs. Pendl had pushed out. His body was found shortly before eight Wednesday morning by Deputy Sheriff George Tiffany, Waukegan, and Charles Hetzer, Chicago, a brother-in-law, who was called after the fatal accident.

Grapple for Body

The body of the father was located about ten o'clock yesterday morning, by Herman Rosing, Antioch fireman, who was called to bring out grapping hooks, and several others who aided him.

Witnesses who testified at the inquest held at Strang's Undertaking Rooms yesterday afternoon by Coroner John L. Taylor, Libertyville, were William Hynek, Grass Lake, who was present when the body of John Pendl was brought up, Charles Hetzer, and Herman Rosing.

A verdict of death by drowning when the ice broke through the ice was returned by the coroner's jury composed of N. L. Nelson, James Stearns, Ed. Strang, Elmer Hunter, Edgar Simonsen, and Don Eaton.

Leaves Widow

Pendl was born in Stegersbach, Austria-Hungary, December 25, 1885, and came to America over thirty years ago. He lived about two years in Buffalo, N. Y., before coming to Chicago. Four years ago he moved to his Fox River home.

He was married Sept. 25, 1911, to Mary Graf. He leaves his widow, a brother and sister in New York, and his mother and a sister in Austria.

He is well known about the lakes as a hunter and trapper. For the past two years he has been a deputy sheriff, although he was a mason contractor by trade.

Funeral services will be held at ten o'clock tomorrow morning at the St. Peter's church, with burial in the Mt. Carmel Catholic cemetery.
